Award winning insurer launches charity cover from £6 a month

Markel UK, Leeds, 21 June, 2012 - Leading charity insurer Markel today announced the launch of a new product designed specifically for charities and community groups.

Cover can be bought over the telephone and premiums start at just £6 per month with interest free payments.

Markel staff will be on hand to guide customers through the quotation process and answer questions they may have about their insurance.

Charities can choose to buy as many or as few covers as they need depending on their individual requirements. Key covers available include:

- Public and product liability and employer's liability
- Trustee liability and professional indemnity
- Property damage (buildings, stock and equipment cover)
- Money and personal assault

Markel has a long history of working with charities and not-for-profit organisations, raising over £130,000 for the Carers Trust since 2008, and has provided insurance solutions for charitable organisations for over 20 years.

Simon Fell, managing director of Markel UK, said: "There are over 160,000 local charities and community groups in the UK who need insurance and our extensive knowledge of the risks facing these organisations means we are ideally positioned to offer them cover.

"Our charity insurance offers clear, straightforward explanations of the cover available with knowledgeable underwriters at the end of the phone if customers need help arranging their insurance"
